SOME one seriously seeks in the advertising columns of a religious weekly for "a parlor maid who knew her place and feared the Lord."

PAUL PHILLIPPOTEAUX, who painted the cyclorama of the battle of Gettysburg, has concluded to make his home in this country.

J. R. PHELAN, train master of the B. & M. R. R. between McCook and Denver, and one of the best Democrats in the state, was in the city, Thursday evening. * * Jas. Carmichael is now a resident of Red Willow county.—Hastings Democrat.

ONE of the jurors in the celebrated Walkup murder trial has gone hence, to try the realities of another world. Such occurrences come not unexpected. Minnie's embraces and osculations were too much for the old gentleman—and he has gone to bear Walkup company.

A SHEEP HERDER, name unknown, employed by Frank Lemon on his ranch forty miles northeast of Greeley, perished in the late snow storm, on the banks of the Little Crow Creek. E. E. and E. B. Howendobler of Bertrand, Neb., and Marysville, Mo., with three Swedes, narrowly escaped a similar death at the head of the Frenchman, during the same storm. After wandering over the prairie two days, they were finally rescued, not, however, until all of the party were more or less frozen.

The Somerset (Pa.) Herald wants the post office address of the following named officers and enlisted men of the late company G., fifty-fourth regiment Pennsylvania volunteers: Capt. Franklin B. Long, Lieutenants Adam Troutman and George Lyberger, Sergeants Philip Bennett and James M. Phillips, Corporal John Bigger, and privates Elias Crosby and Joseph Imhoff. Each of them can get $1,000 by making his whereabouts known.

J. A. McManigal, a freight fireman on the B. & M., between this city and McCook, met with a very painful and what might have been a fatal accident in the yard at this place, yesterday afternoon. An extra was being made up, and his engine being the one chosen to pull the train, had been backed down to where the train was standing, and he, getting down from the engine, went around to make the coupling. From some cause his foot happened to slip just as the engine bumper struck the car and his right shoulder being between them, was severely crushed. No bones were broken except the collar bone. The unfortunate man was taken to the Commercial hotel, and is now under the care of Dr. Sowers. He will be around again in a few weeks.—Hastings Gazette-Journal.

C. E. Wood, of the Chief, who has been night operator at the B. & M., has been discharged. Some tickets were stolen while he was on duty.—Helmet.

The above refers to the two tickets to El Paso, Texas, which were stolen from the coupon case in the depot ticket office, some weeks ago, by W. J. Blanchard, a telegraph operator and former employee of the office from which he stole the tickets, and at the time of the theft an employee at the division headquarters of the western division of the B. & M. at McCook. The company seem disposed to censure Mr. Welch the ticket agent and Mr. Wood, the night operator, for Blanchard's crime. Wood being dismissed and Welch salted to the tune of $115. Both are victims of misplaced confidence, they having good reason to think Blanchard had returned to relieve the day operator, (who was about to leave) had no suspicion whatever of his evil intent, never dreaming he was a thief and had come there to do them up. The theft was discovered and the officials aware of the fact before Blanchard reached Denver, or at least soon after, but he was allowed to go scott free, and is still at large, the devil knows where. Meanwhile the boys here are unjustly suffering for the crime of another.—Red Cloud Chief.

For several years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been prized for its speedy and certain cures of croup. It is the favorite and main reliance with thousands of mothers. It will not only cure croup but if freely used as soon as the first indication of the disease appears, that is as soon as the child becomes the least hoarse, it will prevent it, doing away with all danger and anxiety. There is not the least danger in giving the remedy freely, as it contains no injurious substance. Sold by M. A. Spalding and Willey & Walker.
